

A LETTER FROM OUR FOUNDER

November 1, 2021

To all that visit:

I want to express my gratitude in your choosing to visit our site. Many hours have gone into the creation of this enterprise, and it's my sincerest hope that it will grow and continue to do so in the years to come.

We aren't naive enough to believe that we can achieve this on our own though. We realize that there is still much work to be done and many more hours lay ahead, but we plan to make every effort to meet that challenge.

All we ask of you is that you join us, keeping in mind that there will be some growing pains to work through along the way. We want to encourage your feedback, ideas and suggestions as it will be vital to us understanding how best to tailor our site to our customers' needs and expectations.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Brandon McCall". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Brandon McCall, Founder
nerdcultureshop.com